AN INTERNATIONAL GUARD PROPOSED.

A DEPUTATION TO GOV, HOFFMAN,

A Tote of Thanks to the Herald for its Sympaty and Moral Support.

General indignation was expressed yesterday in the city in coasequence of the arbitrary and formation of the Commissioners in preventing by force the peaceful inners are review in honor of the executed Paris Communists. Everywhere where measure are assembled—in the hotels, they have contained a support of the executed Paris Communists. At an early hour in the morning the following named members of the international, valiantly captured at the Cooper Institute on Sunday, were regarded the from the Mercer street station house and dumped into the flithy pen is Jefferson Market Louit (the same in which Mr. Newkirk was recently Irozen to death), in company with the usual crowd of prostitutes and drunkards:—George A. Allen, bainter, born in the Cinted States; Hugh McGregor, eweiler, born in Bengland; Frederick Matern, druggist, born in Germany; Justid A. Solwab, masod, born in Germany; John Haibert, painter, born in Hengland. A boheeman kept guard at the door of the pen until nine o'clock, when Mr. Justice Shandley thought proper to appear. The law requires Police Magistrates to open court at sanrise). The internationalists were then marched in and placed in line before His Honor. They bore themselves with dignity and composure, their conduct contrasting strangely with that of the other prisoners. Dertainly no men could look more like the "dangerous classes" Commissioners Manlerre, Hank Smith and Ancillary are so afraid of.

The COURT BOOM WAS FILLED with sympathizing Internationalists and people drawn to the scene by curiosity. The former were distinguishable by their respectable appearance, as much as by the red ribbon backe or scarf which most of them wore. The five Communists, if such they really are, were also distinguished by a red ribbon, draped in black, which each wore either on the arm or breast, or both. Two wore red neckties in addition.

The magistrate asked what the charge was and why the men were arrested. Captain Byrne and

In addition.

The magistrate asked what the charge was and why the men were arrested. Captain Byrne and Diffeers Earry and Reynolds then squared them selves to explain. Barry said that he made the arrests because the Internationalists, among whom were the prisoners, were "TALKING LOUD, CHEERING AND DISTURBING THE PRACE."

Officer Reynolds made a similar statement. He said, "There were five or six men at the head of the browd, but there was no organization. The crowd was cheerin' and hollerin'."

Justice Shandley—The prisoners can go. "Their punishment has certainly been enough for their phence."

punishment has certainly been enough for their business."

Most of the people in the Court thought so too, and, as the Internationalists left with their friends, tooked their sympathy. Mr. Allen carried his flag away with him under his coat. The flag was carried by him on Sunday and was fully described in resterday's Herald. There was something of a scene outside the court room. The Internationalists to the number of fifty or sixty gathered round their liberated brothers and cheered them heartily. Handshaking and mutual congratulations followed and the entire party moved away to get another of their captured banners from the Fifteenth precinct station house—and their breakfast. Both objects were attained and the excitement was over for the morning.

THE MEETING LAST NIGHT.

In accordance with a resolution passed by the Executive Committee on Saturday evening, a meeting of the Federal Council of the "Internationais" was held last night at 100 Prince street, In a spacious upper room of a French restaurant Though the meeting was called by the Federal Council it was not confined to that body. In adultion to members of the "International," who all wore "the red," there were present representatives of various labor organizations of the city, influential citizens and ladies. The gathering numbered about Eve hundred persons, and the lower part of the room was crowded by an enthusiastic throng, who were obliged to stand during the whole of the proceedings. The meeting was very cosmopolitan in its character; every European nationality had its representative present.

The speakers were very earnest in their utterances and manifested an enthusiasm and determination that must have inspired the most phiegmatic person present. It was unanimously decided to parade on Sunday next, and all trades' unions, all workangmen and workingwomen, and all citizens of every industrial occupation were invited to Join the procession. It was hoped that the police would see the desirability of not interfering with the parade, and to endeavor to bring this about more effectually a deputation was appointed to go to Albany and submit the question to Governor

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Hubart, and on his motion Mr. Banks was appointed Chairman and Mr. Debouchue Vice President.

VOTE OF THANKS TO THE RESALD. Mr. McGanoon said that before the meeting commenced on the immediate business which it was called together to consider, he begged to move a vote of thanks to the "press" for the true and fattiful reports of the proceedings of the organization and the fair and liberal spirit which it had shown throughout this conflict.

A VOICE—More especially the NEW YORK HERALD. (Loud cheers.)

(Loud cheers.)

The CHAIRMAN—I don't like making any invidious distinction as to newspapers, however well deserved this may be. I will put it, however, as amended. (Loud cheers.) The vote of thanks was then unanimously passed.

The vote of thanks was then unanimously passed.

NEXT SUNDAT'S PARADE.

Mr. WARD proposed that the parade take place next Sunday. In supporting this he said that Sunday was the workingman's day, and, according to the doctrines of Christ and all other good religions, was the best day the workingman could select. By the suppression of the parade workingmen nad been insuited. Three funeral processions, to his knowledge, passed through the streets on Sunday last. That moult had been given by a body of police in the United States of America, too. (Shame.) That was to instigate a tyranny as dominant as that of Europe; but it would be the duty of the Internationalists to show that they were in a majority in this country. (Cheers.)

Mr. RICHARDSON seconded the resolution, and said that the proposed parade had been put down by a police force that had been organized by a dominant clique (loud cheers), who had roboed the city and state of millions of dollars (cheers,) and had systematically robbed the working classes. (Cheers.)

The time had come when the artisan class, independent of all political party, should assert itself. They had been hewers of wood and drawers of water for a privileged class long enough. (Cheers.) Mr. Richardson described his personal experience as a refugee in Paris and as a patriot in Ireland, and his speech was much applauded.

Mr. Wolff said that all days belonged to man;

When he want on the streets he would go for an object that was worth going for, and would be prepared to fight for that. (Cheërs.) He did not go for so small a thing as that of a parade. That was all humous. (No. no.) He knew that they wished to have a mouraful procession, but they had had that on the previous day, and that was enough for their puppose. (No. no.)

that on the previous day, and that was enough for their purpose. (No, no.)

Mr. Bâxīs, the chaifman, was strongly in favor of a parade on Sunday. He saw regiments of Soldiers march past, on a funeral parade, while he was watting on sunday on the sidewalk. He was not in favor, however, of so revolutionary a measure as the arming of an international guard. He would rather trust to moral effect, and to the good sense of the people. He thought that by this means their rights would be secured.

Mr. Maddock spoke in favor of exhausting all the power of the bailot before having recourse to the builts.

THE RESOLUTIONS. Resolutions were then unanimously passed to parade on Sunday next, and all internationalists, all trades unions, all workingmen, workingwomen and citizens generally were invited to join the procession, and also appointing the chairman to wait upon Governor Hoffman in reference to the action of the police.

THE CAPTURED INTERNATIONALISTS.

THE CAPTURED INTERNATIONALISTS.

Mr. McGregor and Mr. Sobwab gave amusing accounts of their incarceration at the station house and the slavish subserviency of the police when it was discovered that the prisoners were visited by influential friends.

The meeting adjourned about ten o'clock.

Meeting of the Federal Council.

After the adjournment of the mass meeting of the Internationalists last evening, at 100 Prince street, meeting of the Federal Council was held. On motion, Mr. D. J. Francols was voted to the chair. Two delegates (one of whom was a lady) from the London Council of the International Society were, by courtesy, allowed to be present.

Mr. August Flureau was appointed a delegate to to to Albany with Theodore H. Banks, who had been appointed at the mass meeting to wait on Gov-ernor Hoffman and request him to revoke the order ernor Hoffman and request him to revoke the order of the Police Commissioners forbidding them to parade on Sunday.

Mr. West explained that the duty of the delegates was not to beg favors or privileges, but to ask through the Governor that protection from the State which the city authorities refused to give them.

After much discussion a committee was appointed to wait on the Police Commissioners to notify them of their intention to parade on next Sunday without police escort or protection.

THE "MANCHESTER MARTYRS."

Sanday Anniversary in the City of Dublin-

No Interference on the Part of the Police. The HERALD correspondent, writing from Dublin under date of the 28th ult., thus describes the anniversary of the Fenians executed at Manchester :-The anniversary of the "Manchester Meetings," which has now become a national celebration, was a observed here with the usual solemnity on Sunday last. Although no spectal announcement of the event was made beyond a newspaper paragraph in one of the weekly journals, still, from an early hour in the morning groups of persons from every part of the city were seen making their way to Glasnevin Cemetery, where they gathered round the cenotaph erected to the memory of Allen, Larkin and O'Erien. Crowas continued to arrive until four o'clock P. M., all of whom kneit down and offered up a prayer for the eternal repose of the dead. About one o'clock a crowd of some hundreds had assembled on the spot, which was the central point in the day's observance. At a sign all present kneit down and joined in that psaim of sorrow, "THE DE PROFUNDIS," at the conclusion of which the crowd quietly left the cemetery; but groups of persons continued long afterwards to kneel and pray. A wreath of tramorticies encircled the base of the cross upon the honorary tomb, and a small banner of green sik waved over the grave, having upon it the inscription, "Pray for the souls of our martyred brothers." Wreaths were also placed upon the graves of other deceased Nationalists, and among the number I may mention those of Terence Bellew McManus. Anne Deviln, Richard Stowell, Edward Duff, Henry O'Donoghue and Terence Byrne. The entire celebration, it is satisfactory to know, was conducted in the most decorous and becoming manner; and, although the police and the detectives were present in large numbers, there was no occasion whatever for their interference. The anniversary of the "Manchester Meetings," postponement of the Philadelphia engage ment to an indefinite period keeps the Nilsson Italian Opera Troupe in this city until after New Year's Day. Last night was the first performance of the second, or extra season, and "Mignon" was the attraction. There is scarcely anything to add to our previous remarks on this opera, which seems to lose none of its popularity. But there is much to say about this extra season in the way of advice to the management which is founded on reason as well as the talk of the lobbies. Mile. Nilsson has now sang for a long and trying season, with but a single disappointment on her part and that was caused by indisposition. She has gained for herself a reputation second to no operatic artist who has appeared on the boards of the Academy, and that under the disadvantages of not being surrounded by artists of equal calibre. The public would now like to see two such surpassing prime donne as Mile. Nilsson and Miss Clara Louise Kellogg as the trim stars and attractions of this supplementary season, and we do not see any difficulty in the matter. Miss Kellogg has eaurely abandoned the California season, owing to the fact that the manager, Signor Blanchi, was unable to fuilit the terms of the engagement to the letter, and Miss Kellogg, like her sister artist, was too well acquainted with managerial promises to trust to them. Every effort was made to persuade her not to insist upon the exact luifilment of certain provisions in the contract beforehand; but these efforts were in vain. Now, as the generally expressed wish of the public and the stockholders of the Academy is to bring Mile. Nilsson and Miss Kellogg together in opera this season, we talink it would be very advisable for the management to accede to this wish. Kellogg and Nilsson at the head of the company would tend to conceal the greater part of its weakness, and would the greater part of the season more brilliant than the commencement. On Wednesday the Swedish Nightingaie appears as Leonora in "Trovatore." on Friday in "Martha" and on Saturday afternoon in "Faust." Next week "Trovatore" and "Faust" will be repeated, and on the 20th inst. the company appear in concert at Steinway Hall. of the second, or extra season, and "Mignon" was the attraction. There is scarcely anything to add to NEW YORK SPORTSHEY'S CLUB.

ITALIAN OPERA --- THE EXTRA SEASON.

The reunion of the Sportsmen's Club last night was a splendid affair. The members assembled at the house of the worthy President, Mr. Royal Phelps, where an elegant and recherche supper had been once the good things which had been provided for them and the different subjects of interest to the club. Among the gentlemen present we noticed Messrs. Hutchinson, Gilbert, Craven, Johnson, Smith, J. C. Barret, Lawrence, Natorp Judge Bebee, Carter, Gordon, N. J. Hays, Secretary: Roosevelt, Vice President; Whitehead, Counsel for

As soon as supper appeared conversation flagged, and there appeared some danger that the advoally the clatter of the knives and forks and the pop ping of corks ceased and conversation resumed its sway, asserting the dominion of mind over matter. The President rose and addressed the assembled guests:-

GENTLEMEN OF THE SPORTSMEN'S CLUB—AS President of this club and chairman of the Executive Committee I beg in the first place to congratulate you on this return of our monthly meetings and on the full attendance I see around me.

In the next place it is my duty to thank you for the very liberal provision of money ($1,500) you have just voted for the expenses of the Executive Committee in prosecuting poachers and infractors of the Game Law, and I think I can promise you that there will be no trout sold in the markets of this city excepting during the open season of the 15th of March to the 15th of September.

I ou are aware that by the present law woodcock cannot be suited or mad in possession after the 1st day of February up to the 13th day of July; qual from the 1st day of January up to the 25th of October; deer from the 35th of November to the 1st of Angust, and partridges or grouse (commonly called prairie chicken) after the 1st day of January up to the 1st of September. But that dealers are allowed the months of January and February in which to sell off their stock of quality partridges, deer and prairie chicken, provided they can prove "that they were killed within the the period provided by this act, or outside the limits of this State, at some place where the law did not probibit such killing," and with your efficient assistance, alded by our detectives and the severe penalty of $25 for each bird or trout, I have no doubt we shall easily enforce a strict observance of the law, especially so as the respectable dealers and the principal clubs and restaurant keepers have signified their intention of not having this kind of game on their tables during the aforesaid closed season. With the epicures and the gentlemen we shall have no difficulty; for the idea is fast becoming general that game out of season is a vulgarity and in very bad taste.

On the conclusion of the President's address a general conversation ensued on the subjects touched upon, and we left the club deeply engaged

NORTH CAROLINA.

Interfering with the Arrest of Citizens Un-der the Ku Klux Law-A Resolution Passed by Both Branches of the State Legislature Denouncing Investigation. RALEIGH, Dec. 11, 1871.

The arrest of several citizens within the borders this State by the United States forces operating in the martial law districts in South Carolina, par ticulars of which have already been published in the HERALD, has been the subject of a lengthy and ex-cited discussion in both branches of the Legislature

Governor Caldwell was severely criticised and denounced for refusing to demand an assertion of the dignity of the State by the United States government; and the Executive failing, the General Assembly to-day passed the following joint resolution:— Resolved by the Senate, the House of Representatives con-curring, that the message of His Excellency the Governor, in relation to the arrest and detention of Alten Bettis, a citizen of the State, be referred to the Attorney General, with authority to apply to a Judge of the Supreme Court of the United States for a writ of habeas corpus to test the legality of the imprisonment of the citizens named in this communi-cation, or any other citizen of the State freed by a military force without legal authority.

OBITUARY.

James H. Mallery. Mr. James fl. Mallery was born in Florida, Montcomery county. New York, November 29, 1814, and died November 30, 1871, at Liberty, Sullivan county. New York. His father was a farmer and his youth was spent assisting in the cultivation of the paternal was spent assisting in the cultivation of the paternal estate. Mr. Maliery's name is well known in connection with several important and expensive structures. In conjunction with Colonel Hamilton he executed some of the finest mechanical work in the vicinity of Albany and Troy. In 1856 he undertook the task of cutting the tunnel through Bergen Hill for the Eric Rallroad. The work was carried nearly to completion, but the financial revulsion of the year following compelled the contractor to abandon the undertaxing with heavy loss to hinseif. In 1867 he represented the First Assembly district of Orange county in the Legislature, being elected by a very fattering vote, and subsequently won golden opinions for his integrity. In company with Mr. Isano Stanton he founded the Washington from Works at Newburg. Latterly he resumed his connection with public works, and for some time had been engaged on heavy contracts on the New Jersey Midland Rallroad, and was actively prosecuting his work, when he was selzed with apoplexy and died very suddenly. Mr. Maliery was a man of great organizing and executive ability, and was highly esteemed among an extensive circle of friends for the many social qualitics he possessed.

The Grand Duke Invited to Milwaukee. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 11, 1871.
It being understood that the Grand Duke would probably visit Milwankee during his contemplated

Western tour, the city government decided this evening to tender the hospitalities of the city to His imperial Highness. KILLED IN AN APPRAY.

One of those afrays that not infrequently end fatally took place on the evening of Sunday, October 3, at about ten o'clock. The two men who engaged in the affair-Patrick Black and Hugh McGuire—both lived in Baxter street, and on the evening in question they started from that fragrant locality to an oysiter saloon at 38 Centre street. When the least was over Black went up to the counter to pay for what they had consumed, but his friend also wanted to pay, and from this difference of opinion a row ensued. After a good rough-and-tumble fight in the saloon Black went out and was almost immediately followed by a man named Eagan, who strock him a severe blow on the face. Black managed to get home, and was shortly afterwards obliged to take to his bed, from which he never rose. At two o'clock yesteroay afternoon he expired, and the medical man in attendance gave a certificate of death from Bright's disease of the kidneys. This his relatives said was a mistake, and they complained that he dien from the effects of the beating Eagan had given him. Captain Kennedy, hearing this refort, at once arrested Eagan to swait the action of of the Coroner. McGuire, the young man who accompanied Black to the oyster saloon, is also arrested, and will be held, as he is the principal witness in the case, McGuire-both lived in Baxter street, and on
